Modeling clay is oil-based, which makes it easier for children to mold and play with. For polymer clay, you're more likely to need to an actual kiln or some basic pottery skills, while modeling clay is more laid back. Polymer clay is something people think is less appealing in terms of color selection, but that's actually not true.

How to Use Modeling Clay to Create Anything You Can Imagine
Clay Modeling. The most easily recognized form of sculpting is clay modeling, that is, the creation of a 3-dimensional piece of art typically using some type of clay: Plastilina (oil-based clay), self-hardening (non-firing) clay, ceramic/pottery clay, wax or other polymer-based material. Clay is highly versatile, extremely easy to work with, and the ideal modeling material for the beginner as well as the seasoned sculptor.
