Yum. If you are looking for a super fun dinner party idea, a pasta bar is it! Similar to the burger buffet I shared a while back, a pasta bar lets everyone get creative making their own personal pasta bowl. Although they might not look it, both a pasta bar and burger buffet are not at all difficult to put together, by the way.

Pasta Bar Sauce and Toppings. I only offered two sauce choices for this particular pasta bar and a few popular toppings. Just enough to give people a variety of choices. Don't be afraid to use your everyday dishes. I used my white bowls from my farmhouse dish set, as well as other smaller bowls for topping and sauces.

In summary: To keep past and passed straight, remember that past always has the same form, while passed is one of the forms of the verb pass. By putting a sentence in the future tense you can see which you want. Change "I drive past your house" to "I will drive past your house," and you find that past remains the same.

~~How to Use Passed vs Past | Merriam-Webster~~

We can always use the past simple as an alternative to used to or would to talk about past states or habits. The main difference is that the past simple doesn't emphasise the repeated or continuous nature of the action or situation. Also, the past simple doesn't make it so clear that the thing is no longer true.
