About Poems, Protest, and a Dream. A bilingual edition of writings by Latin America's finest baroque poet Sor Juana Ines de la Cruz (1648-1695) wrote her most famous prose work, La Respuesta a Sor Filotea, in 1691 in response to her bishop's injunction against her intellectual pursuits. A passionate and subversive defense of the rights of women to study, to teach, and to write, it predates by almost a century and a

My favorite part of this selected writing book of Sor Juana was not her poems and her dream but rather her protest at the very beginning. Her letter to Sor Filotea is what struck me the most, what made the biggest statement. To me, it wasn't her poems - though I enjoyed most of them - but the disguised protest in itself.

the various perspectives within the confines of post-Reformation Church history, perhaps none is more interesting than the writings of Sor Juana Ines de la Cruz. A Catholic writer (and later a Catholic nun) living in the New World during the 15th century (xxiv), Sor Juana's theological perspective exhibits the increasingly uneasy place of traditional Catholic faith in the midst of the rise of Modernism.
