The basic city directory can help you locate an individual in a specific time period. When you know your ancestors' addresses, it can be fun to drive by and look at their old homes. In some city directories you can also find information such as children's names, marriage dates, death dates, and birth dates.

A gazetteer is a dictionary of place names. Gazetteers may describe towns and villages, parishes and counties, states and provinces, rivers and mountains, and other geographical features. They usually include only the names of places that existed at the time the gazetteer was published, but may reference name changes. The placenames are usually listed in alphabetical order, similar to a
