the Apocalypse of John, Revelation to John or Revelation from Jesus Christ) is the final book of the New Testament, and consequently is also the final book of the Christian Bible. Its title is derived from the first word of the Koine Greek text: apokalypsis, meaning "unveiling" or "revelation."

Book of Revelation - Wikipedia

The book of Revelation is about the Church, in all its imperfection, and about its enemies, persecution from the outside and seduction from the inside. The books format is very good, key texts are in bold. He does use his own translation of the Greek text (he calls the lampstands "menorahs"). There is a good bibliography and three indexes.

Woodcut series: The Revelation of St John (Apocalypse) (1497-98) by Albrecht DÜRER. Apocalypse comes from Greek meaning an 'unveiling'. The faith of the early Christians, living under persecution, was sustained by the expectation of Christ's imminent second coming. This found literary expression in the Revelation of John, written at the end of the first century A.D., an allegory foretelling the destruction of the wicked, the overthrow of Satan and the establishment of Christ's kingdom on

The authorship of the Johannine works—the Gospel According to St. John, the three Epistles of John, and the Revelation of St. John the Divine—has been debated by scholars since at least the 2nd century AD. The debate focuses mainly on the identity, date and location of authorship of these writings. Although authorship of all of these works has traditionally been attributed to John the ...
