John W. Meyer's work broke new grounds in institutional thought in sociology and made him a central thinker for the emerging interdisciplinary field of neoinstitutionalism, while at the same time establishing institutional thought's comparative variant, world society theory. His scholarship plays a prominent role in contemporary social theory, and has shaped research areas such as ...

Even though world society has not received much attention and was taken as an extension of international society, there are still strong characteristics that can make world society an important, individual concept of IR theory. As said in the first part of the essay, world society was formed based on Kantianism.

World literature is a way of collecting those ideas in a way that reflects a specific group of people at a certain time in history. Since literature is reflective of predominant political and philosophical principles of the time in which it is written, world literature is also a historical reflection of the evolution of world culture.

What Is the Importance of World Literature?

Literature is important to society because it reflects cultural values and serves as a tool for teaching those values to others. Through literature, people can learn about specific periods in history and events that changed the world. Prose and poetry also provide a way to express emotions, raise questions and build critical thinking skills.

Literature in World War I is generally thought to include poems, novels and drama; diaries, letters, and memoirs are often included in this category as well. Although the canon continues to be challenged, the texts most frequently taught in schools and universities are lyrics by Siegfried Sassoon and Wilfred Owen; poems by Ivor Gurney, Edward Thomas, Charles Sorley, David Jones and Isaac ...

World War I in literature - Wikipedia

English literature - English literature - The literature of World War II (1939–45): The outbreak of war in 1939, as in 1914, brought to an end an era of great intellectual and creative exuberance. Individuals were dispersed; the rationing of paper affected the production of magazines and books; and the poem and the short story, convenient forms for men under arms, became the favoured means ...
